These Terms & Conditions ("Terms") govern the registration, participation and use of services provided through NEXORA / Nexora Bizworks ("NEXORA", "we", "us" or "our") in connection with promotional advertising, digital marketing, customer acquisition, lead generation and customer onboarding support activities.

Any individual who registers with NEXORA, accesses our website, submits information, participates in a campaign, uses any link, form, portal or onboarding process provided through NEXORA, or performs promotional activities as an affiliate/partner shall be referred to as a "Participant", "Affiliate", "Partner", "User", "you" or "your", as applicable.

By registering with or participating through NEXORA, you acknowledge that you have read, understood and voluntarily agreed to these Terms.

2. NATURE OF NEXORA'S BUSINESS

NEXORA operates primarily in the field of promotional advertising, digital outreach, customer acquisition, lead generation and customer onboarding assistance.

Our activities may include promotional or onboarding assistance relating to third-party products and services, including but not limited to:

- Demat account opening;
- Savings/bank account opening;
- Credit card and other eligible financial-product onboarding;
- Digital promotional campaigns;
- Customer acquisition and lead-generation activities;
- Digital marketing and promotional activities; and
- Other services or campaigns offered through third-party service providers.

NEXORA does not represent itself as a bank, stock broker, investment adviser, lending institution, insurance company, NBFC, financial institution, or issuer/provider of any third-party financial product unless expressly authorized and stated otherwise.

Participation as an Affiliate or Partner does not, by itself, appoint or authorize the Participant to act as an employee, broker, investment adviser, financial adviser, legal representative, regulated entity or authorized representative of NEXORA or any third-party provider.

3. THIRD-PARTY PRODUCTS, LINKS AND DISTRIBUTION CHANNELS

Certain links, URLs, forms, portals, campaigns, applications or onboarding processes made available through NEXORA may originate from third-party business partners, vendors, agencies, aggregators, platforms, distributors or other business/distribution channels.

A link or onboarding process may be provided to NEXORA through a multi-level business or distribution arrangement involving one or more third parties.

NEXORA may not necessarily have a direct contractual relationship with the ultimate provider or issuer of every individual product, service, campaign or link.

Where applicable, NEXORA acts as a promotional, marketing, customer-acquisition and onboarding-support channel and does not represent itself as the owner, issuer, bank, broker, lender, insurer or financial institution responsible for the underlying product or service.

Participants/Affiliates shall use only links, portals, promotional materials and communication formats provided or expressly authorized by NEXORA or the applicable third-party provider.

Participants shall not create, modify, replace, mask or redirect official links or onboarding processes in any manner that may mislead a customer or interfere with tracking, attribution, verification or compliance.

4. THIRD-PARTY APPLICATIONS

Any application, account opening, KYC process, registration, verification or onboarding completed through a third-party platform shall remain subject to the terms, eligibility criteria, policies and verification procedures of the respective third-party provider.

All such decisions are made by the relevant third-party provider according to its own policies and applicable requirements.

Participants/Affiliates shall not represent or communicate to customers that they have authority to approve, reject, activate, modify or otherwise control any third-party account or product.

Any earning examples, illustrations or projections communicated by NEXORA are illustrative only and shall not be interpreted as a promise or guarantee of income.

6. NO MANDATORY PRODUCT OR COURSE PURCHASE

NEXORA does not require Participants to purchase inventory, products, courses, packages or memberships merely for registration or participation, unless expressly communicated for a specific legitimate service or campaign.

Participants should independently review all applicable terms, charges, eligibility requirements and policies of the relevant third-party provider before proceeding.

No Participant shall represent that purchasing any product, course, package, membership or service is mandatory for obtaining participation, approval or earnings unless such requirement has been expressly authorized by NEXORA in writing.

8. NO INVESTMENT OR FINANCIAL ADVICE

NEXORA does not provide personalized investment advice, stock recommendations, portfolio management, investment recommendations or financial planning services merely by facilitating promotional or onboarding activities.

Participants/Affiliates are not authorized under these Terms to provide investment advice, stock tips, trading recommendations, portfolio recommendations, personalized financial advice or assurances regarding the performance or profitability of any investment or financial product.

Participants shall not make statements such as “guaranteed profit”, “guaranteed return”, “sure-shot approval”, “risk-free investment” or any substantially similar representation.

Participants are responsible for independently reviewing the relevant product documentation and making their own decisions regarding any financial product or service.

Nothing in these Terms authorizes a Participant to hold themselves out as an investment adviser, financial adviser, broker or other regulated professional unless separately and lawfully authorized.
